

TULSA HOTELS FOUND IN SANITARY ORDER

State Food Inspectors Gives Cafes and Fountains Clean Bill of Health.

CITY'S GREAT NEED, WATER

Wells Show Pollution With Typhoid Germs. Visiting Officials Declare.

Assisting in the municipal health campaign now in progress, and in accordance with the federal drive already being carried on throughout the country, six representatives of Dr. A. H. Lewis, health commissioner of the state, are in Tulsa looking over the situation and making reports to the government on the general health conditions of the city.

"I have received the surprise of my life in my two weeks' investigations," said George R. Savage of Oklahoma City, in charge of the corps of investigators. "We had been advised on several occasions that we would have a tough time of it in Tulsa, but we have found the hotels, rooming houses, food and drink establishments, drug stores etc., to be in the best condition of any in the state, and we have inspected all the larger cities and most of the small ones."

This is a measure is due to the efficiency of Dr. J. W. Githers and his city health department, and of Dr. C. L. Bleiter and the county health officials. Both departments are most efficient, and we have found but few unsanitary conditions that will have to be abated.

"Impure water is one of the greatest evils that Tulsa has to cope with. We have found that the city's greatest need is for pure drinking water. The need of first class water is appalling. The majority of the surface wells of the city our tests show to be contaminated with typhoid fever germs. With the coming of summer this must be remedied, for 80 per cent of typhoid fever is traced to impure drinking water."

"Besides this, there is almost half a million dollars a year depreciation in transportation, hotel and theater caused by the use of bad water. One restaurant man told me yesterday that drinking water for his concern cost him $200 a month.

Mr. Savage is assisted by M. C. Hancock of Muskogee, P. H. Wood of Ardmore, Glenn Williams of Duncan, W. C. Cheatham of Oklahoma City, Mr. Board of Okemah, all state inspectors of food, drug, hotels and sanitation.

Gaining the co-operation of Mayor Hubbard and the city and county health authorities at the beginning of their campaign, these inspectors have made a thorough investigation of every place that handles food-stuffs in this city. While some recommendations were made to the proprietors, not one place was closed. In Oklahoma City 26 restaurants and

MERCHANT FEELS 20 YEARS YOUNGER

"Tanlac Is the Greatest Medicine in the World," Says Chattanooga Man.

W. S. White, a well known merchant of St. Elmo, a suburb of Chattanooga, recently made the following statement regarding his experience with Tanlac:

"Most everybody coming into my store are taking out from much weight and looking thin. And no wonder, for I've gained 25 pounds in actual weight since taking Tanlac. For months I had been in a terribly run-down condition, and had no appetite nor energy. I fell off in weight, and got so weak that I couldn't attend to my business. I was nervous and dizzy, and took no interest in anything."

"I have now taken three bottles of Tanlac, and my improvement is remarkable. I weighed 155 pounds before I began taking Tanlac, and now I weigh 180, and although I am 60 years old, I feel like a man of 40. My strength and energy have returned. I eat like a farm hand, and feel fine all the time. Tanlac is the greatest medicine in the world."

safes, some of the best ones in that city included, were closed while put into a sanitary condition. Thus Tulsa has gained an enviable reputation in the state health department's estimation, at least.

NO UNION OF CHURCHES IS FAVORED BY BAPTISTS

KANSAS CITY, May 25.—Rejection of proposals for an organic union of the inter-church world—representatives of the inter-church world movement, and the gift of $2,000,000 by John D. Rockefeller for mission work were the outstanding features of yesterday's session of the Northern Baptist convention.

The Rockefeller gift, contingent upon the completion of the $10,000,000 church fund, was said to be the largest individual gift ever made to missions, work and denominations. Five million five hundred thousand dollars of the sum already has been raised, and President F. W. Avery of Philadelphia told the convention he was confident the sum would be raised and the $2,000,000 added, one-half for the American Baptist Foreign Mission Society of Boston and the other half for the American Baptist Home Mission Society of New York.

The Rockefeller gift was in addition to $1,500,000 already contributed toward the $10,000,000 fund.

Pat's Discovery.

Strolling along the quays of New York harbor an Irishman came across the wooden barricade which is placed round the quay where immigrants suspected of suffering from contagious diseases are isolated.

"What's this hoarding for?" he inquired of a bystander.

"With all the reply, "That's to keep out fever and things like that, you know."

"Indeed," said Pat, "you often hear of the board of health, but believe it's the first time I've seen it."

The Tunnel.

"A rather fatigued young man was seated in one of the corridor compartments of the London Northwestern Irish Mail from Euston to Holyhead. He noticed there was a fair sprinkling of young ladies accompanied by young livers and thought the approaching tunnel offered some time to be lonely, so he went in."

Hindenburgh Seeks Permission to Make Home in Switzerland

By The Associated Press.

KIRKWOOD, May 25.—Field Marshal Von Hindenburgh formally appealed to the Swiss government yesterday, asking permission to reside in Switzerland as a simple citizen. The field marshal, who recently bought a villa on the shores of Lake Constance, added that he had not only 14 days long and the train will be about eight minutes passing through."

To the surprise of all, the train dashed into daylight against an hour ago, twenty seconds and the scene in the east was one for a painter. Seven young ladies were closely pressed by seven pairs of masculine arms. All pairs of lips were glued together and two green inverted whisky flasks flashed in the air.

An old farmer, who by hard work and parsimonious habits had got together little fortune, decided that the time had at length arrived when he justified in buying a family carriage. He went to a carriage builder and described in detail the kind of vehicle he wished to buy.

"Now I suppose you want rubber tires?" said the carriage builder.

"No sir," replied the old farmer in tones of resentment. "My folk ain't that kind. When they're riding they want to know it!"—Edinburgh Weekly Scotsman.

The outstanding feature, however, is the superb solo singer

It was made "by hand" in Turkey

It has a remarkable history, the story going
